

“Snapshots of the Future”

When: Wednesday 19th August 2009, 6pm – 9pm (5:45pm Registration)

Where: Shadow Lounge, Jade Buddha, 1 Eagle Street, Brisbane

What will we see in the future, what are the important drivers of change, and challenges that will be faced and how can the industry position itself to tackle these issues?

FutureNet Queensland is proud to present “Snapshots of the Future” – a night designed to encourage and inspire Young Professionals in the Built Environment. Hear from five interesting and engaging speakers as they present their visions for the future of the Built Environment in Queensland.

Be entertained and inspired by our speakers:

Hon Kate Jones MP | Minister for Climate Change and Sustainability | Member for Ashgrove

Kate Jones was sworn in as Climate Change and Sustainability Minister in March 2009, as the youngest ever female cabinet member in Queensland and the first Gen Y Minister in Parliament. Before being elevated to the ministry, Kate was Deputy Government Whip and served on several parliamentary committees, including Chair of the Minister for Public Works, Housing and ICT Policy Committee.

Greg Vann | Director | Buckley Vann Town Planning Consultants

Greg has over 30 year's town planning experience in Queensland, both as a consultant and in positions for local and State government. He has been the project director for and has extensive experience in development assessment, preparation of planning schemes, and providing planning advice to the private sector, local and State governments.

Jodie Cox | Manager, Curatorial Team | Urban Art Projects

Jodie is a practising artist and arts manager with extensive experience working in the Queensland arts industry. At UAP, Jodie has managed significant national projects as well as art programs and strategies on the international stage in Saudi Arabia, Dubai, Kazakhstan, Shanghai and Cairo.

Adam Beck | Associate, Project Sustainability | Arup

Adam is Arup's Australasian Coordinator for the firm's international research programs on Drivers of Change and the World Economic Forum's SlimCity initiative which Arup co-produced. As well as developing and facilitating sustainability assessment processes, Adam also has significant experience in community participation and social impact assessment for which he lectured at the University of Queensland for more than four years.

Liz Brown | Operations Director | Engineers Without Borders Australia

Engineers Without Borders (EWB) is a non-profit organisation that works with disadvantaged communities to improve their quality of life through education and sustainable engineering projects. Liz Brown is responsible for leading a team of eight staff to deliver EWB's programs, including work with communities and national education programs focussed on sustainable development, appropriate technology and poverty alleviation.
